Professor T. R. Loudon,
Engineering Building.

Dear Professor Loudon:

I have a note from the Librarian saying that he has been unable to get back a book that you have, Green "Trusses and Arches, Part III". I feel that your not having answered him is an oversight, and I hope that you will let him have it as soon as possible.

Yours sincerely,

President.

T. R. Loudon, Esq.,
President, Students Council,
University of Toronto.

Dear Mr. Loudon:

I forgot to mention to you last week that I hope the Students Council will endeavour to forestall interfaculty hustles or interferences this year as far as possible. We did not suffer much last session, but there was one outbreak that caused some discussion in the papers. As you can see we ought this session as far as possible to avoid what might be considered by the public as undue regard for the gravity of the present situation.

Yours sincerely,

President.

President Falconer,
Toronto University,
Toronto, Ontario,

Dear Mr. President,

Re: Varsity.

As per our conversation I have written to Mr. Gregory, asking for an appointment with reference to his son's position as Manager of "The Varsity." I have no doubt that this appointment will be made at an early date. I shall let you know, the result of our conversation immediately.

Yours truly,

Thos. R. Laudon.

President R. A. Falconer,
University of Toronto.

Dear Mr. President:

Your personal note re seeing Mr. Langton received. I am sorry that I have not seen Mr. Langton before now, particularly as you spoke to me about this matter some weeks ago. I have tried several times to get time to go over to see Mr. Langton; but, have been unable to do so up to the present. However, I am making a point of seeing him today.

Yours sincerely,

Thos. B. Leonard.

Dear Professor Loudon:

By mistake I opened a letter with the enclosed card, which is meant for you. When I began to answer it
I found that it was not my place to do so, and that the compliments should be returned by the Students' Council.

Yours very truly,

President
